

WIN WITH LEWISHAM SOUTHWARK COLLEGE

Lewisham Southwark College are giving away 'technology bundles' to four lucky winners this summer. Each includes an iPad mini, Dre Beats headphones, an Amazon voucher and a USB stick.

If you live in London or Kent you could start the new term with some cool new kit and be the talk of your friends at school or college. The fun summer competition is asking you to think about your goals and how you're going to take the right steps to get there.

All you need to do is create a video (15 seconds maximum) which gives your take on 'life isn't about finding yourself, it's about creating yourself'. So what is your dream, and how are you going to make sure you get there? Winners will be people who make creative videos - they can be taken on a phone, but make it interesting!

All entry information can be found at lesoco.ac.uk/win. The competition opens on 01 August and closes on 31 August 2015.

● Lewisham Southwark College is a further education college, with four campuses based across south east London.

The College welcomes approximately 13,600 teenage and adult students, studying vocational topics including art, accounting, beauty, business, construction, computing, dance, drama, early years, fashion, floristry, food, health and social care, information technology, law, media, music, science, sport, teaching, travel and tourism and English and mathematics.

Lewisham Southwark College believes passionately in encouraging and nurturing talent in a friendly and supportive environment.

School's bright future

CEO of E21C,
PAUL MURPHY

Education for the 21st Century (E21C), the multi-academy Trust based in Kent, has announced the opening of its new member school, The Beckenham Academy (TBA) in September 2016.

Following a bid in October 2014, the Department of Education granted E21C permission to open a brand new 11-18 Free School in Beckenham to match the demand for schooling in the borough. An opening date has now been set and the application process has begun for its 180 available places for next year.

Whilst delicate and commercially sensitive negotiations continue with The Education Funding Agency (EFA), to agree a permanent site for the school, TBA will be opening in a temporary location from September 2016, at The Ravensbourne School (TRS), Hayes Lane (another member school of the E21C Trust).

The Ravensbourne School location will provide full access to all its specialist facilities such as science labs, playing fields, ICT suites and much more.

The site also offers a central location to the area and fantastic transport links, making starting the new school a smooth process.

An open evening will be held for The Beckenham Academy at The Ravensbourne School on Tuesday, October 6, 2015.

This will be a chance for prospective parents and students to hear from the Principle Delegate to talk about the exciting plans for the school and the opportunities it offers to the new intake of students for 2016. An open week will also take place between October 19-22 for those parents and students that would like to see a secondary school in operation.

CEO of E21C, Paul Murphy says: "We're really excited to let everyone know about the launch of The Beckenham Academy. The Trust has seen some great success since its launch and as CEO I'm extremely pleased we can offer a new free school to the borough of Bromley as demand increases.

We're in continued talks with the Department of Education as we develop further plans regarding the location, however, in the meantime we are offering a fantastic alternative to the students at TBA with the use of the TRS facilities. It will allow The Beckenham Academy to fully operate as a "school within a school".
